COLUMBIA, April 27, 2009 — Many local citizens and churches in the Columbia area will be hosting a “Hope For America Rally” on Thursday, May 28th in the Lexington High School auditorium. The Columbia Area “Hope For America Rally” will focus on the historical relevance of Christian influences in our nation’s founding, the danger of current attacks on our religious and constitutional liberties, and the importance of Christians being a voice and getting plugged into the culture war in America.

The event is open the general public and admission is free. Christians from all denominational backgrounds are encouraged to attend this rally.

The keynote speakers for the rally will be nationally syndicated radio show host, Dr. Jody Hice of “The Jody Hice Show”, which airs in all 50 states on over 459 radio stations every week, as well as nationally sought after speaker and a previous news director for Fox News, Aaron Evans.

“Hope For America Rallies” are an outreach of Let Freedom Ring Ministries, Inc. of Atlanta, GA and are held across the country to educate and motivate citizens in regard to our constitutional and religious liberties. These rallies are non-profit, non-partisan, and do not promote any political parties or candidates.
